PATHS CROSS

On our path to excellence we are pleased to welcome another Made in Italy reality. Alvena is an Italian company specialized in the development of ingredients and semi-finished products for pastry and gelato. A pioneer in the sector, since its foundation, it has turned its attention to innovative products such as yogurt and soy.

This forward-looking approach has allowed it to gain a prominent place in the food industry. The acquisition of Alvena reinforces our mission to offer customers state-of-the-art solutions that meet the needs of today's consumers. The company, with its long experience and expertise in the sector, represents a fundamental pillar in our growth and development strategy.

This new stage renews our commitment to guarantee quality, innovation, competence and passion to our customers, to support them at 360° with solutions capable of responding to modern consumer trends. The collaboration with Alvena represents a further step towards the goal of creating an environment where excellence is the main driver of our success.
